THE CHARLEROI MAIL

VOL. XX—NO 5 CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, TUESDAY, JUNE 10, 1919 TWO CENTS

MANY PRISONERS ARE SENT TO REFORMATORY INSTITUTION

County Makes Record With List of Nine Who Were Convicted

WERE ARRESTED FOR ROBBERY

A precedent was established in the Washington county courts on Monday when nine young men, seven of them colored, were committed to the Western Pennsylvania Reformatory at Huntingdon. Usually one or two at a time have been committed to this institution but never before in such a wholesale lot.

Another feature in connection with this commitment was the fact that not one of the defendants was a citizen of the county. All were wanderers and have no relatives or friends hereabouts. It will cost the county approximately about $2,000 to care for them during t heir period of incarceration.

All of the prisoners were roustabouts and had been arrested at Monongahela a bout ten days ago for robbery. They were implicated in cleaning out the store of Sam Haddad, where they obtained about $1,000 worth of goods.

One of their employers learned of the robbery and tipped off the Monongahela officers. who made a search and later arrested the ones implicated.

FATALLY INJURED IN CHARLEROI MINE

Edward Geho. employed as a miner at the Charleroi mine of the Youghiogheny & Ohio Coal company, was so badly injured this morning by a fall of slate that he died at 11 o'clock w hile being taken to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital for treatment. His injuries were a compound comminuted fracture of the thigh, a crushed pelvis and a cut on the head. The immediate cause of death was internal hemorrhage caused by the fracture of the thigh bone and pelvis. He is survived by his widow, two sons just home from war, and three daughters. Mr. Geho's home was at Lock Four.

WILL PRESENT CLASS PLAY AGAIN THIS EVENING

The class play, "A Couple of Million," which was given by the S eniors last Thursday evening, will be repeated at the high school auditorium this e vening. There are no reserved seats and those coming first will be served first.

The greatest crop of blackberries that Venango county has ever known is promised this year. The same condition is said to exist in Washington county, bushes being covered with blossoms to such an extent that t he leaves can hardly be seen.

NEW POLICE PATROL HAS BEEN RECEIVED

The new patrol for the Charleroi police department has arrived in town and is in the garage of VanVoorhis & Kinder for the present. The patrol is built on a White chassis and is complete with every detail for a modern patrol wagon. It will be kept at the new municipal building when that structure is formally turned over to the boro.

UHRO-RUSINS TO HOLD A TAG DAY

Burgess Woodward has given permission to the local Uhro-Rusins,to hold a tag day, Saturday, June 14. The aim of this tag day is to collect funds for the orphans and widows of that nationality left by the war abroad. The Uhro-Rusins are the descendants of the Red Russians A branch, which was planted on the southern part of the Carpathians, has grown up as a separate tree. As a Russian nationality they belonged to the original Russia. When the Magyars occupied Hungary and made the Carpathians the boundary of Hungary, the Uhro-Rusins became subjects of Hungary. That was in the twelfth century.

From that time until the present date they have been under the rule of the Magyars, their rights and privileges varying through the centuries. In 1868-9 the Hungarian constitution guaranteed them certain autonomous rights, which rights however were never granted.

The Uhro-Rusin state as a result of the war is free and approved by the peace conference as the third state of the Chechoslovak-Rusin Republican.

EXCURSION PARTY HAS RIVER OUTING

Employes of the Carnegie Steel Company, on Saturday afternoon last, enjoyed an excursion on the Monongahela river the trip being made from Clairton to the Sixth pool and back. Elaborate preparations had been made for the outing, one of the large steel barges having been decked over with a fine dancing floor, while a canvas top kept the sun from the guests. The barge was in tow of the steamer W. C. Clingerman which was gaily decorated with flags and bunting for the occasion. A splendid orchestra furnished music for the party, and apparently they had a splendid outing. The excursion was a reminder to many of the old employes at the lock as to the time when such outings were the principal forms of entertainment for the summer season.

Vesta No. 5 Is Once More In Operation

Vesta mine No. 5 of the Vesta Coal company, l ocated at Frederi.ektown, resumed operations on Thursday last after a suspension lasting over a period of about eight weeks. The suspension of the mine some two months ago was caused by differences existing between the Local Union of United Mine Workers and officials of the company. The miners declared astrike when one of their members was not allowed to have one of the company houses. Afew days following the strike at Fredericktown a sympathetic strike followed at California at Vesta No. 4,which is still idle.

Attempts were made to settle the strike at Vesta No. 5, but all without avail, until the election of new officers for the Local, which took place a short time ago. A former set of officers had been elected, but they are reported as not being satisfactory to the company, when more conservative members of the organization took charge of affairs and selected a new corps of officers, through whose instrumentality the differences with the company were adjusted.

In the future the meetings of the Local Union will be held in the Vestaburg school house, instead of a hall located in the Vestaburg ravine. The latter meeting place does not have a good repute, and itis intimated that something stronger than water was dispensed there.

However, the men and the residents of Fredericktown are highly pleased o ver the outlook, as with the mines running steadily there it gives plenty of work for those desiring it, and at the same time makes business conditions much better.

ARMY UNIFORM IS NOT FOR PEDDLERS

Burgess Brownlee of Washington on Monday announced that hereafter men wearing the uniform of the United States would not be permitted to act as hawkers and peddlers in that town.

He took this action at the request of the war department, Capt. William P. Robins, representing Col. Arthur Woods, special assistant to the secretary of war. going to Washington for the purpose of personally securing action by the local authorities. In some cities it is said that the prevalence of uniformed men peddling on the streets in the employment of unscrupulous forms who desire to take advantage of popular sentiment has become a pest.

That the uniform is as much a symbol of the country as the flag is recignized by every one, and by none better than by those themselves who have served. It is believed that a large proportion of those who use it to advertise their wares are not soldiers, but plain fakirs and panhandlers.

The American Legion caucus at St. Louis, composed of representatives of the 2,000,000 men who were in the A. E. F. went on record as being unanimously opposed to the practice of discharged soldiers in uniform acting as peddlers. The uniform was given to soldiers on their discharge as a souvenir and for use at ceremonies but not to be misused o r dishonored.

TIPPLE AT JEFFERSON IS ONE OF THE BEST

The new coal tipple of the Mathers company at Jefferson, in Greene county, is said to be one of the finest structures of the kind in the country. There are twenty-two tracks under the tipple and the plant is capable of loading 122 cars of coal each working day. When the railroad is in good working order up Ten Mile creek, and the demand is sufficiently large the Ten Mile section promises to be one of the greatest tonnage producers in the valley.

LOCAL AGENCY FOR STANDARD EIGHT

W. B. Risbeck, agent for the Monongahela valley for the Standard Eight automobile, delivered two fine cars in Charleroi on Saturday last one to George W. Risbeck, and the other to Aruthur W. Day. Both of these cars are fine machines, with beautiful stream lines and every accessory that goes to make a desirable auto. Mr. Risbeck has secured Duvall's garage to act as local agent for Charleroi, w hich will be pleased to give d emonstrations of this car to prospective purchasers. The Standard is made by the Standard Steel Car company of Butler, which is a guarantee in itself of the solidity of the car and its first class construction. The cars have powerful engines, and an owner of the Standard is sure to have a machine that will answer every demand and every requirement. Those desiring to look over the car and see it tested can make the necessary arrangements with either Duvall garage or with Mr. Risbeck at Donora. 5-t1

BOLSHEVISTS ARE PLACED UNDER ARREST

Monongahela police have four self-confessed Bolsheviki and I. W. W. followers locked up at their city hall awaiting final disposition of their cases. The men were arrested early Sunday morning in the Boston restaurant in that city, where they had started a rough house, in which a number of dishes were broken and one of the waiters assaulted. The gang was arrested on charges of mayhem and disorderly conduct, the connection of the members with the Bolsheviki being developed after the prisoners were placed behind the bars. It is likely the prisoners will be held for federal action. The prisoners are alleged to have said that a plot existed whereby much damage would be done on the Fourth of July by explosion of bombs in some of the larger cities.

IMPORTANT LOCAL REAL ESTATE DEALS HAVE BEEN CONSUMMATED

SUES TO RECOVER FOR AUTO ACCIDENT

Joseph C. Cadwallader of Pittsburg has brought suit against Robert E. McManus of Donora to recover $500 damages alleged due as the result of an automobile accident at Speers in May, 1919. The defendant it is avenred attempted to pass the plaintiff on the wrong side of the road, hurling plaintiff's car against a telephone pole and badly wrecking it.

SERVICE MEN WILL MEET THIS EVENING

The Charleroi Soldiers' and Sailors' organization will meet this evening in the Charleroi Savings and Trust Company Hall, at which time many things of importance to returned soldiers will be taken up.

Communications have been received from the American Legion together with forms for applying for a Charter. The members of the local organization look with favor upon the Legion and its declared principals, and it is likely t hat the organization will decide at the meeting to join this new movement. If they do join the present temporary organization will be continued until fall when a reorganization will take place under the new charter, and all members in the organization by that time will be entitled to be enrolled as charter members. This will give the men still in the service the same standing as those already creating the organization.

Instructions have been received telling how the extra travel pay for discharged soldiers may be obtained. Forms also have been received to apply for the Liberty button.

ADVERTISING FOR THE CHAUTAUQUA

The preliminary advertising for the Lincoln Chautauqua, which will be in Charleroi the week of June 24, is now being placed on the streets and in the various business houses along the avenues in town. The Lincoln Chautauqua has been in the entertainment field for many years and will present a splendid program to the people of Charleroi. Announcement as to the attractions and the date on which they will appear will be made later.

A petition has been presented to the Washington county courts asking for the dissolution of the Turn Verein Realty company of Charleroi.

Valuable Frontage On Important Streets Have Changed Hands

GOOD PRICES ARE OBTAINED

A number of important real estate deals have taken place in Charleroi recently and deeds of conveyance have been placed on record in the Recorder's office at Washington. Among the more recent of them transfers are:

Dalton T. Clarke of Washington to the Tri-State Co-operative Association, Pittsburg, a lot fronting 22 feet on Fallowfield avenue and extending back 100 feet, consideration $12,000.

Daniel Gottheld to John W. Latchem, two lots fronting 44 feet on McKean avenue and extending back 100 feet; consideration $4,575.

David E. Kimmell, to William G. Gottheld, lots Nos. 218 and 220, fronting 55 feet on McKean avenue, and extending back 100 feet, consideration $5,000. To Daniel Gottheld lots 226 and 228 fronting 55 feet on McKean a venue and extending back 100 feet, consideration $5,500.

May E. Powell to Robert S. Murray, a lot fronting 36.75 feet on Shady avenue, consideration $4,500.

Gust Jandala to D. R. Duvall, a lot fronting 22 feet on McKean avenue and e xtending back 100 feet a consideration $2,200.

BRINGS SUIT TO RECOVER FOR TEAM

In court at Washington on Monday the case of John W. Latchem local transfer man, against the Pennsylvania railroad, was taken up for trial. The plaintiff seeks damages for the loss of a team of horses and the wrecking of a wagon when hit by a train at the Speers crossing. In that accident, which occurred August 15, 1916, the driver of the team was killed. The wagon at that time was loaded with telephone poles. The usual charge of negligence on the part of the railroad company in not giving proper warning of the approach of the train and in not protecting the crossing is alleged.

MANY TEACHERS NEEDED IN WESTMORELAND

It is reported that it will require sixteen hundred teachers in Westmoreland county for the next school term, and just about 600 instructors holdinng provisional certificates will be needed. Two-thirds of the teaching force are college graduates, State Normal graduates or persons holding state or professional certificates.

The Only Shade Made With a Ventilator

Self-Hanging
Vudor
Ventilating Porch Shades

To get real, continuous, every-day, all Summer long pleasure from your porch, it must be protected from the Sun. This is evident to all of us---but simply protection from the sun does not make your porch habitable---far from it. You must have ventilation.

The New Patented

permits the hot air to escape from the top of the porch through a wide open VENTILATOR woven in the shade itself at the extreme top, where the sun cannot shine in upon you. This Vudor woven-in the-shade Ventilator automatically clears the porch of impure hot air and permits a continuous, gentle circulation of air without drafts.

The New VUDOR Self-Hanging Device

enables you to hang a shade in five minutes--not a screw used. The old way of attaching a shade to the porch with screws took twenty minutes or more. With the new Self-Hanging way you can unhook the shade in the Fall---if you wish---and rehang it in the Spring in less than two minutes and this doubles the life of the Shade.

Let us demonstrate the new VUDORS for you.

HAS SEEN MUCH FOREIGN SERVICE

Sapper R. Beatty a member of the Royal Engineers of the British Army, who is here on a vacation to his former home in Monessen, was a visitor in Charleroi on Friday afternoon. Beatty is a typical soldier of fortune, having served in the United States Army in the Philippine Islands, later enlisting in the Strathcona Horse of Canada and fighting in the Boer war, and in the war just closed served for three years in the Royal Engineers A feature of the uniform worn by Beatty is a white lanyard, which the Royal Engineers adopted at the time of the War of the Roses and which has been handed down from that day to this as a part of the uniform of this organization While in service the past few years Beatty not only served in France but also in the Holy land in and about Jerusalem with the British Army He is a very interesting talker and has a fund of information of his many adventures while serving in the armies of the United States and Great Britain

OFFICERS CLEARED OF CHARGE OF ASSAULT

Policeman Harry Boyce and former Constable Popp of Belle Vernon, were found not guilty of assault and battery in court at Uniontown and the prosecutor Alex Shaw was directed to pay the costs in a verdict rendered before Judge Swearingen on Wednesday. The prosecutor claimed that the two officers mistreated him while taking him to the Belle Vernon police station.

BRUISED BY FALL FROM BUILDING

R. C. Tate, who was at work on the Jackman home in Speers borough, Friday afternoon, painting the building his ladder broke, throwing him to the ground. Mr. Tate fell a distance of about 20 feet, alighting on his back and shoulder. It was feared for a time that he had sustained serious injuries and he was taken to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital for treatment. However it was ascertained after an examination that he had no broken bones, but was suffering from severe shock and bruises.

The Pittsburg Steel Products Company is testing out at its Monessen plant this week an improvement that has required at least six months to install. It is a Hughes gas producing plant, the latest in design and absolutely automatic. This will enable the Monessen plant to run at about one-fourth the cost for fuel that it has been doing on natural gas.

While the natural fuel was the cheapest owing to the expenses of constructing a gas producing plant, the supply was also troubling industries, as well as thehigher prices charged. Twelve of the furnaces of the Monessen plant have been rebuilt for the manufactured gas and it is hoped to have the balance ready soon. A great advantage to the company is the fact that coal will be taken from the mines at Allenport and brought to Wireton in barges where it will be unloaded, to be used in the production of fuel gas. This fuel will take the place of all natural gas and oil that has heretofore been used in the plant.

General Superintendent Wikstrom is very enthusiastic over the improvement and the advantage to which the plant will be placed with its competition.

VERDICT IN FAVOR OF RAILROAD COMPANY

The case of the supervisors of Monongahela township, Greene county, against the Monongahelt railroad in a case charging them with maintaining a nuisance on account of a charge of a public road in 1912 when the extension to Fairmont was made and which came up for trial in Waynesburg on Monday was decided in favor of the railroad company.

In the Washington county courts on Tuesday Dr. Emery Reisinger of Washington, D. C., was awarded $15,000 damages in asuit against the Pittsburg Railways company, for the death of Mrs. Reisinger. his wife, who was killed in an accident at College street crossing, Canonsburg, when a car of the defendant company struck an automobile in which she was riding. Two other occupants of the car were also killed.

The hous of representatives at Harrisburg on Thursday reported out a number of bills making appropriations to a number of institutions. In the list is the Charleroi-Monessen hospital for which $8,000 is recommended. The Brownsville General hospital was given $25,000.

The Mendle Senate bill providing that all vehicles except farm implements on the roads after dark be compelled to carry lights was passed with little opposition by the legislature at Harrisburg and now goes to the Governor for a ction.

A deed was placed on record, date of May 31, in which Peter J. Deprex, and others of Charleroi conveys to Dalton T. Clarke of Washington alot fronting 22 feet on Fallowfield avenue and extending back 100 feet, the consideration being $12,000

Grand and Glorious.

When for years your friends have been remarking your gray hairs; and your teeth repairs have mounted until you have concluded you might as well be keeping a car; and the least little excursion into fine print gives you a headache; and your wife explains to visitors that you have outgrown all interest in dancing and cards; and all your old girls have children going to school; and the only movies you care to see any more are the more exciting pictures; and then when, one evening, some young folks are in and old-fashioned molasses and vinegar taffy is made, with walnuts in, and your wife says you'd better go easy on it or you'll regret it before morning, and you throw caution to the winds and eat all you want, and awaken next morning without a pain—ain't it one of those well-known grand and glorious feelings?—Kansas City Star.

WORK BEGINS ON THE DONORA ROAD

The Edwards Contracting Company is now at work on the improvement and repair of the highway between Monongahela and Donora, the big steam shovel being located just this side of the Black Diamond tipple. During the time in which the road is being widened and improved it will be closed to public traffic.

SECURE A VERDICT AGAINST ZINC WORKS

In the suit of Frank Burkhardt and wife against the American Steel and Wire company of Donora, a claim for damages, alleged due to fumes from the zinc mill of the defendant company, the jury on Friday returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for $500.

WHEN THOUGHTS ARE ASTRAY

Foolish Expressions Frequently Made Use of in Moments of Complete Surprise.

When taken by surprise, the most sensible persons are often startled into saying foolish things. The passengers on an electric car the other day were amused when a frivolous, dainty butterfly of a young girl fluttered in, and half way down the aisle dropped her hand upon the shoulder of a large, competent-looking lady with a basket full of parcels, exclaiming:

"You dear Aunt Isabel! So here you are at last!"

The lady addressed started, turned upon the speaker the face of a total stranger, and said icily:

"I'm not dear, and I'm not here, and when I'm an aunt I'm not Aunt Isabel!"

She grew very red, and so did the snubbed young woman as, amid the titters of their neighbors, the girl begged pardon and hurried forward to her real Aunt Isabel, wildly beckoning her from a seat farther forward.

Still more thoroughly confused in speech, although clear enough in her meaning, was the young wife, who was addressed by a strange gentleman in a railway station. She was wearing a raincoat and blue veil—most deceptive of costumes—and her height and general appearance led him to mistake her for his wife, whose train had been delayed. Coming up behind her, he took her familiarly by the arm, exclaiming:

"Thank goodness, I've found you, Mary! I began to think you were lost!"

"You're mistaken, sir!" she gasped, jerking nervously round. "You haven't found me, and she is lost. I'm Mary, but she isn't me!"—Youth's Companion.

ALL WERE "POOR FISH" ONCE

Scientific Sharp Goes Back Fifty Million Years to Prove Truth of His Statement.

When your best girl calls you a "poor fish" believe her. For she has a line on your ancestry. Any regret you may have felt that your ancestors didn't come over on the Mayflower should be somewhat appeased by the thought that they at least swam over, under or in the wake of that illustrious vessel. This information may not be new to students of evolution, but to those who have been too busy to do any research work fish ancestry may come as something of a shock. Especially if you're a fisherman and have been unwittingly hooking your distant relatives all these years. The evolution of man is being traced in a series of lectures at one of the Harlem high schools by a well-known professor and he has all the natives by the ears, writes a New York correspondent of Pittsburgh Dispatch. He told them that they were all mere fish 50,000,000 years ago, which is going back beyond their earliest recollections, and since then the fish markets of Harlem have become centers of interest. The staring eyes of the prostrate shad, herring and flounder has caused many passers-by to stop and earnestly look for recognition from a long-lost relation. The majority of Harlemites, however, cannot figure it out whether they were descended from a lamprey eel or a striped bass.

Staten Island.

The borough of Richmond, otherwise Staten Island, and the second largest borough of Greater New York, probably would have been part of New Jersey had it not been for the sporting spirit of the duke of York, afterward James II. and of Capt. Christopher Billop, a sturdy navigator of Old Manhattan. When New Jersey claimed the island, the duke announced that all islands in the bay that could be circumnavigated in a day should belong to the colony of New York. The Jerseyite colonists were gleeful at this, feeling sure that Staten Island could not be claimed by this plan. Captain Billop, however, disliking the Jersey governor, took it upon himself to make the trial in his famous sloop, the Bentley, and made the circuit just within 24 hours. In recognition of his feat he was given a large tract of land and a fine house on the southern end of the island.

Popular Phrases.

"What is a popular phrase?" some one once asked. "Something we all repeat like parrots, without knowing its real origin or meaning," was the reply of the cynic; and to a certain extent he was right, observes an exchange.

How many of us, for instance, can tell where the terms "tuft hunters" and "fools' paradise" arose? As a matter of fact, the latter phrase originated in the theological argument that there is a place for fools just outside paradise, while the term "tuft hunting" took its rise at the universities of Oxford and Cambridge, where at one time the young noblemen wore a peculiarly formed cap with a tuft, which presumably attracted hangers on.

Danger in Dust.

All kinds of dust form dangers to human beings. Not only does dust exercise a direct harmful influence on the tissues of the organism, but it is the chief transporting agent of germs of infection and contagion. Dust is composed of infinitesimal particles of street mud and of refuse of every description which lie on the surface of the soil. These particles, when dry, are disseminated in the atmosphere, together with all the impurities and microbes which they may contain, and to which they serve as transporting Ivory Mats.

There are but three mats of ivory in existence. The largest one measures eight by four feet, and although made in the north of India, has a Greek design for a border. It is used only on state occasions, like the signing of important documents. The cost of this precious mat was almost incalculable, for more than 6,400 pounds of pure ivory were used in its construction. Only the finest and most flexible strips of the material could be used, and the mat is like the finest woven fabric.

Task for Mamma.

Ben was visiting his aunt, who so far forgot herself as to use a "swear word." The youngster was horrified, and upon arriving home he began to tell his grandfather about the occurrence. When he reached the place in his story where the "swear" had to be repeated he stopped and said appealingly: "Mother, won't you say it just once so grandpa can hear how awful Aunt Sue sounded?"

Plodders Have Their Uses.

It is the men who have had vision who have moved the world forward. The rest of us are plodders. We are good plodders and we all do the best we can, but we are really followers in the footsteps of others. If we follow well, and if we plod patiently and tirelessly we also may claim our meed of praise. Also we shall surely be given our reward.—Exchange.

Red-Tapeism.

A young detective was enthusiastic but inexperienced. Rushing into his chief's office in great excitement, he cried, "I've found the murderer! I've got him cornered so that he can't escape!" The chief regarded him with withering scorn. "Allow me," he said, "to draw your attention to the fact that at present we are looking, not for the murderer, but for clews!"

On Riches.

I cannot call riches better than the baggage of virtue. For as the baggage is to the army, so is riches to virtue. It cannot be spared nor left behind, but it hinders the march; yea, and the care of it sometimes loseth or disturbeth the victory. Of great riches there is no real use, except it be in the distribution; the rest is but conceit.—Bacon.

Quite Right, Auntie!

Aunt Nancy listened with horror to the language of a fat old gentleman who had been forced to climb six flights of stairs to his office because the elevator wasn't running. "There," she said, sagely. "There is an example of what we may expect from a man who has had no bringin' up."

Life's Turning Point.

When you get into a tight place, and everything goes against you, till it seems as if you couldn't hold on a minute longer, never give up then, for that is just the place and time the tide will turn. — Harriet Beecher Stowe.

Pity the Manicurist.

Of course you have your little worries and moments of vexation while going about your daily tasks, but suppose you had to listen to all the flubdub and mushy talk a manicurist has to listen to while she goes about hers?—Macon Telegraph.

Art for Art's Sake.

"The desideratum of things artistic," mused the guy with the temperament, "would be a wedding between the girl on the front page of a current magazine and the fellow on the collar advertisement."

Remember One's Limitations.

In the moral world there is nothing impossible, if we put a thorough will to it. Man can do everything with himself; but he must not attempt to do too much with others.—Humboldt.

Not Fair Division.

We do not wisely when we vent complaint and censure. We cry out for a little pain, when we do but smile for a great deal of contentment.—Feltham.

The Largest Butterfly.

The largest butterfly known is found in British New Guinea, and there only. Measured across the wings, specimens are often from 8 to 11 inches wide.

Few Chinese-Built Lines.

Of the 15 lines comprising the system of Chinese government railways only one was built by the Chinese themselves.

WEDDED AT GRAVE'S EDGE

Remarkable Ceremony by Which Philadelphia Jews Hoped to Stop Ravages of Influenza.

With the hope of protecting the orthodox Russian Jews in Philadelphia from further ravages of the influenza epidemic two Hebrews were married at the west line of graves in the Jewish cemetery a few months ago. More than 1,200 Russian Jews watched the rabbi perform the wedding ceremony.

When the couple were pronounced man and wife, the orthodox among the spectators filed solemnly past the couple and made them presents of money in sums ranging from ten cents to a hundred dollars, according to the means and circumstances of the donor, until more than $1,000 had been given.

After the last offering the bride and bridegroom walked to the greensward farther from the graves, where a wedding feast was quickly spread from the two truckloads of food that others of the faithful had provided.

The marriage in a cemetery, with the idea of warding off the ravages of an epidemic, is a revival of a custom that has prevailed for hundreds of years among the Jews in the heart of Russia. When Russia was swept by cholera several centuries ago Jews died by the hundreds. Panic seized them, and they called a council of elders and rabbis, who decided that the attention of God should be called to the affliction of their fellows if the most humble man and woman among them should join in marriage in the presence of the dead.

So they asked a young man and a woman, who were unknown to each other and who were without wealth, to marry in order to save their fellows from the cholera scourge. The young people agreed, and the ceremony was performed. According to the tradition, the ravages of the cholera subsided within three days.—Youth's Companion.

RAISED STATUS OF LABORER

Joseph Arch Will Long Be Remembered as Champion of English Farm Workers.

From plowboy to member of parliament was the remarkable rise of Joseph Arch, who recently died at the age of 92. He was a unique figure in English parliamentary life, being in 1885 the sole workingman member of the house of commons. At that time there was no kind of labor party in existence there. Mr. Arch achieved fame as the champion of the English farm laborer when the tiller of the soil reared his family on a wage of $2 a week, subsisted chiefly on barley bread and hardly knew the taste of tea or sugar. In 1872 he enrolled 200 farm workers in an organization that came to be known as the National Agriculture Laborers' union, whose leaders the bishop of London wanted to duck in a horse pond. "Adult baptism," Mr. Arch rejoined to the bishop's statement, "is not the rule of the Church of England." Mr. Arch is credited with having done more than any other man to improve the condition of England's peasantry. He was popular in parliament. One of his constituents was the prince of Wales, afterward King Edward. He referred to Mr. Arch as "my member." Mr. Arch also was a Primitive Methodist preacher. He was fond of his pipe and an occasional glass of ale.

Mine Produces Coal and Sand.

A mining plant that is decidedly unique is located in Ohio. Both coal and sand are taken from the one property which consists of 150 acres. The surface strata is high grade molding sand and has an average depth of about nine feet. It is deposited on a bed of shale about five feet in thickness and under this is a seam of excellent coal averaging from 4 to 5 feet. Shipments of sand already have been made to foundries throughout the country. A considerable tonnage of coal also has been mined. As the shale strata is uncovered by the removal of the sand, steam shovels will be utilized to strip the shale, thereby exposing the seam of coal which will be mined in the open. In comparatively few localities is the coal seam sufficiently near the surface to permit of stripping. The sand is mined by steam shovel and is conveyed by mine cars to a stockhouse from which it is loaded into cars by a belt conveyor. A force of nine men can load 400 tons of sand a day.—Scientific American.

Whether a bishop should be compelled to live in a castle regardless of his own desire for a more modest and less expensive home is a question which is agitating the clerical authorities of the diocese of Worcester, England. Dr. Ernest Harold Pearce recently was consecrated bishop of Worcester. In the course of a sermon it was declared that no bishop really wanted to live in a castle and that if the people of his diocese required him to do so, the financial responsibilities should be borne by them, not by him.

Radium Found in England.

The discovery of a considerable body of pitchblende—the ore of radium—is reported from the village of Hampstead on the borders of Dartmoor, England. Samples were submitted to the mineral resources development department of the ministry of munitions, whose experts said it was pitchblende with an oxide content of 26 per cent, somewhat richer than the ore imported from America.

Stranger to the Western World.

The Asiatic zoological expedition, sent into the South Chinese mountain province of Yunnan to investigate its range of animal life, succeeded in securing several fine specimens of the serow, which is a stranger to the western world. The serow is a mountain dweller, somewhat like the chamois, says the New York World. It is wary and fleet and takes a dizzy and seemingly impossible course among its native crags.

No Snowballs, No Lectures.

Fines having been imposed upon a number of students in a well-known college for snowballing in the college garden, 130 men left the place in a body and picketed the neighborhood. Armed with sticks and hurdles, they refused to admit the students who preferred lectures to snowballing, and when one of the professors received a missile on the ear the police had to interfere.

Beware.

The frequent repetition of any facial expression causes permanent alterations in the expression, and these correspond with, and suggest to the beholder, the emotional state that has predominated; so that the man who is always laughing comes to look "a jolly man," the thinker a thoughtful man, and the woman who worries begins to wear a worried look that persists.

Valuable Tree.

The beech, which is found in the temperate zone in Europe, America and Asia, is valuable in medicine for the creosote distilled from its tar. Creosote, creosote carbonate and guaiacol are medicines used to supplement the hygienic measures which have done so much to reduce the death rate in sufferers from pulmonary tuberculosis.

Strike Balked Legislators.

A strike once brought a legislature to a standstill, no less than the house of representatives at Washington. The officers of the house had notified the stenographers that their pay would be cut ten cents a folio, and the shorthand writers immediately struck, forcing a suspension of the sitting until matters were amicably arranged.

Wonder of Plant Life.

A species of the acacia tree attains a height of about eight feet. When full grown it closes its leaves together in coils each day at sunset. Thus settled it will flutter violently if touched, and if the branches are shaken the tree will emit a nauseating odor. The natives call it the "angry tree."

The Frigate Bird.

Naturalists aver that the frigate bird performs most of the business of its life on the wing—feeding, the collection of nesting material, and even sleeping. The spread of its mighty pinions is immense, and it can fly 96 miles an hour without seeming to move.

Beginning of Auto Craze.

In September, 1895, there were on file in Washington more than 500 applications for patents on automobiles. Three hundred different types of motor vehicles had been built or were in process of construction at that date.

THIS WOMAN SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Black River Falls, Wis.—"As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot say enough in praise of it. I suffered from organic troubles and my side hurt me so I could hardly be up from my bed, and I was unable to do my housework. I had the best doctors in Eau Claire and they wanted me to have an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me so I did not need the operation, and I am telling all my friends about it."—Mrs. A. W. BINZER, Black River Falls, Wis.

It is just such experiences as that of Mrs. Binzer that has made this famous root and herb remedy a household word from ocean to ocean. FORMER COUNTY TREASURER DIED ON WEDNESDAY

Samuel L. Kennedy, a former treasure of Washington county, died at the home of his sister-in-law, Miss Jennie Martin, in Canonsburg, Wednesday afternoon. For the past twenty or more years Mr. Kennedy had made his home in Nampa, Idaho, where he owned considerable property. His wife died on the 20th of last August. Mr. Kennedy was the chief promoter of the North Strabane Water company, and a number of years ago was instrumental in bringing a number of new industries to Canonsburg. Funeral services were held this afternoon.

BOROUGH WAS NOT HELD RESPONSIBLE

After debating all Tuesday night the jury in the case of William and Jennie Pierce against the borough of Coal Center brought in a verdict Wednesday morning finding for the defendant. Damages were sought against the borough for personal injuries sustained by Mrs. Pierce who tripped and fell over a wire stretched along the curb in front of the property of William Long.

The question of liability of the borough entered into the case and as to whether the borough had notice that such a wire was stretched at that point, where it was dangerous to pedestrians. It was a question as to who was primarily resposible and the jury determined that it was not the borough
